DUKE FUND COMMITTEE IS NAMED

Subscriptions All Over Islands
Beginning to Roll Up
Some

Among the interesting news concerning Duke Kahanamoku that came today are the following items:
He intends to visit France, Germany and England before returning, and may swim matches in Europe.
He is expected to arrive here on August 28, by the Lurline.
The dispute over the 100-meter race was due to a misunderstanding which caused Duke and others to remain on the Finland while the semi-finals were being contested.
The Hawaiian lad was the greatest single attraction among the thousands of athletes at the games.

With the announcement today of the committee that will handle the fund for a substantial gift to Duke Kahanamoku, active arrangements will be begun to pick out a lot on which will be erected a modest home for the Hawaiian lad who has won international honors and a world's championship swimming title at Stockholm.
The Star-Bulletin, which was asked to start the Kahanamoku fund and which is receiving the contributions made by the people, will turn over the money as received to the following committee, which has been named after a conference of a number of those deeply interested in Duke's success:

COMMITTEE.
W. T. Rawlins, chairman
J. Kahalo Kahanamoku, delegate to Congress
Mayor Joseph J. Fern
A. L. C. Atkinson
L. B. Castle
Chas. F. Chillingworth
Arthur A. Wilder
Alexander May
Lew G. Henderson.

This committee will hold its initial meeting tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock in Mr. Rawlins' office. Judd block and will name a secretary and a treasurer to receive and hold the funds, and will settle upon the details of the gift for Duke. The original proposition, to buy him a house and lot, has appealed to everybody right from the start.

There are subscription lists being started all over the city and they will soon be launched in other islands. Oscar Cox of Wailua, who was in town this morning, went back to Wailua prepared to pass around the list there.

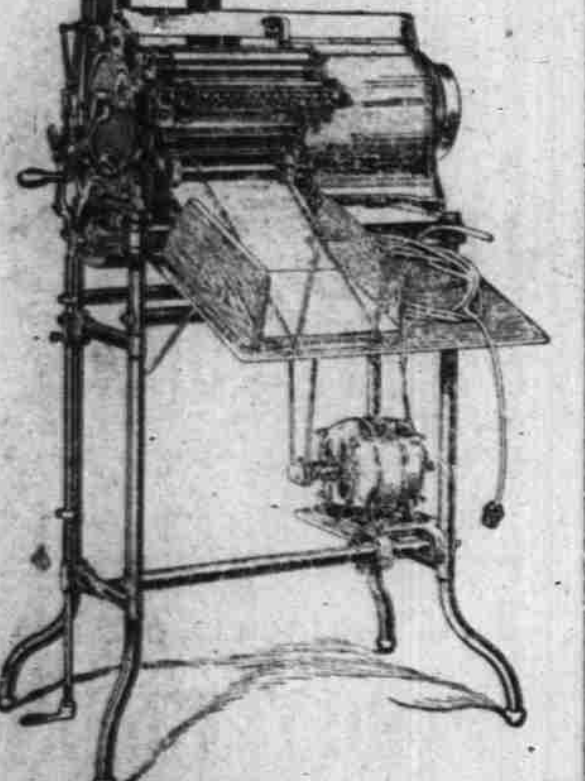

The Star-Bulletin is receiving subscriptions to the fund every day and many incomplete lists are being made up now and when completed will be published with the name of the donors where wished.

From Maui comes the following letter showing that the Hana "Sportsmen" who started the ball rolling with the suggestion and a check to back it up, are busy there:

HILO RAILROAD CHARGED WITH LAW BREAKING

Killing of Japanese Ascribed in Part to Company's Negligence

CORONER'S JURY SITS IN FOUR DAYS' SESSION

Blames Carelessness of Victim but Says Train Brakes Unsafe

HILO, July 17.—"We are of the opinion that the Hilo Railroad Company is operating rolling stock of an unsafe nature and contrary to the provisions of the Interstate Commerce Act."

The above constitutes a paragraph in the findings of the coroner's jury which has been sitting here for four days holding an inquiry into the death of a Japanese killed by the railroad last Thursday.

The jury made its report yesterday afternoon. In addition to scoring the railroad the jury declares that the men working on the section were to blame for their carelessness in not jumping when warned, resulting in the death of one of the crew. The foreman of the section crew is censured for not keeping a proper look out.

The Hilo Railroad Company is charged with negligence in permitting the train to operate with insufficient brakes.

TRIED TO KEEP DUKE OUT OF IT

At last the mystery over the 100-meter swim at Stockholm, in which Duke Kahanamoku and the other American representatives were mixed up, has been cleared. The mainland papers bring the news that Duke, McGillivray and Huszagh, who represented the United States in the event, were "asleep on the deep" when the final heat was swum, tucked comfortably in their bunks aboard the Finland. In the belief that the race was scheduled for the following day, Duke's splendid work in the preliminary heats and his unaffected manner made him a popular hero at Stockholm. In the mass of news called from the Olympic games, the swimming was not featured as it would have been if it had been a detached event and Duke's feat of smashing two world's records in a single day was not given the newspaper prominence that it would have commanded ordinarily. From all accounts, though, the people on the spot made much of the Hawaiian speed marvel.

The following clippings from the San Francisco Chronicle of July 8 and 9, tell of Duke's doings:

Germany Protests.
The semifinal heats of the 100 meters swimming proved a fiasco, as the Americans, McGillivray, Huszagh and Kahanamoku, who had qualified by winning their heats in the previous round, remained on the steamer Finland in the belief that the event was to be contested Monday. Some of the competitors protested against the semi-finals being held, saying that they would be useless without the three fastest competitors. The round, however, was completed.

Healy of Australia won the first heat in 1 minute 5 3/5 seconds, Bretting of Germany swam over in the second heat in 1 minute 4 3/5 seconds.

NO ROOM ON SLEEPERS.
SO CONKLING IS DELAYED

Eastbound passenger traffic on the mainland railway lines has been exceptionally heavy during the early part of the present month. Territorial Treasurer Conkling, in a letter to the Governor, states that he was unable to obtain a berth out of San Francisco until July 8, though he had expected to start East several days prior to that time.

He wrote ahead, however, and gave instructions to start active work on the engraving of the bonds, the preparation of the advertising notices in the financial papers, the formation of the prospectus and other details. A cable from the treasurer a few days ago says that he is now in New York City, making his headquarters at the Belmont Hotel.

Vancouver High School Cadets Visit Honolulu and Call on Frear

CADETS OF VANCOUVER HIGH SCHOOL WHO WILL TOUR AUSTRALIA

Youths with Band and Baseball Team on Their Way to Australia

Marching nearly seventy strong, the Canadian Cadet Corps, No. 101, in command of Captain R. M. Davey, en route from Vancouver, B. C., to the Australian commonwealth, as passengers in the Canadian-Australian liner Zealandia, were reviewed by Governor Walter F. Frear this afternoon.

The corps is proceeding to the great southern continent under official invitation, the party comprising sixty-four members. Dr. Gibson is medical officer in charge, and included in the organization is a bugle corps which will accompany the cadets throughout their entire tour.

The bugle corps rendered several stirring selections as the steamer Zealandia neared Alakea wharf this afternoon. The arrival of the vessel with the militant passengers was an occasion which drew a large number of local people to the waterside.

The cadets are to enjoy a five months' tour of Australia and New Zealand and before leaving Vancouver on July 10th they were put through the final drill by Major Snow.

The high school cadets are said to be a remarkably well-drilled organization. On board the liner they indulged in a series of interesting maneuvers. The impressive ceremony of trooping the colors was gone through in successful manner.

The Zealandia officers state that the cadet band is worthy of special mention, as it is one of the finest organizations of its kind in the Northwest.

The cadet movement is a new thing in Canada and this tour may mean the furthering of this movement. Australia is training her boys to become men of the right stamp, it is claimed, men who would be ready to defend their country at any time if the need should ever come.

The cadets have been well coached in football, and before leaving Vancouver were told that they indulged in a return unless they secured the scalps of some of the Colonial teams.

A number of imposing receptions and farewells were given the lads prior to their departure for the Antipodes.

The Zealandia with the cadets will depart for Sydney via Suva at 6 o'clock this evening.

TREASURY ORDER ON BONDS MADE JULY 3

The order granting the acceptance of the new Territorial bond issue at the full market value, not exceeding par, was made July 3, the day that Governor Frear left San Francisco for Honolulu. This bit of news was received by the Territorial executive this morning in a communication dated Washington, D. C., July 3, written by the representative of an Eastern concern that purchased the greater part of the last bond issue.

The writer states the modification was made following the receipt by the Secretary of the Interior of Governor Frear's Chicago letter, and congratulates the executive on the success of his effort to obtain the government's ruling on the Hawaiian bonds.

The Governor expects a formal notice of the modification in today's mail, but it had not been received at a late hour.

Yong Shu Hoon has filed a petition in circuit court asking that letters of administration be given Lum Hoon for the estate of Fong Gnuie. The petition states that Fong Gnuie died July 6, 1906, and that a wife and child in China survive him. The value of the estate is set at $334.50.

Honolulu Girl To Wed Son Of China's First President

Fiancee of Sun Fo to Attend School with Dr. Sun's Daughters

When Sun Fo, eldest son and heir of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the first president of China, leaves Honolulu for San Francisco next week with his two sisters, the party will include Miss Kai Chun of Honolulu who is Sun Fo's fiancée. Miss Chun is going to the mainland to attend school with the sisters of her husband to be and, when the latter finishes his course at the University of California, the couple will be married.

The love affair of Sun Fo and Miss Chun dates back to their childhood, although it may be said in passing, that Miss Chun is but 16 now and Sun Fo has barely attained his majority. The two went to school together and, it is said have been engaged for six years.

Miss Chun like Sun Fo was born in the Hawaiian Islands and her parents live here. She is very pretty and sensible and is ambitious both for herself and her husband to be.

As the son of the "George Washington of China" Sun Fo has brilliant prospects, and, it is said, the ability to take advantage of them. To prepare herself for the position she will in all probability occupy as the wife of one of China's leading men.

Miss Chun has planned to attend school on the Coast with the sisters of her fiancé. Sun Fo will attend the University of California and complete his course there. He was a student at Berkeley when the revolution in China broke out. When his father was named provisional president Sun Fo went to China to act as his secretary. Prior to his departure the young man took a prominent part in the affairs of the Young China Society and in helping to raise money for the cause.

Sun Fo and his sisters arrived here on the Shinyo Maru and will sail for San Francisco next week on the Siberia. During their stay in the city they are the guests of Chun Chan, owner of the department store at Schofield Barracks.

DAY BURGLAR STEALS FROM KAIMUKI HOME

It took G. S. Fraser of Kaimuki a long period of time and a lot of patience to teach his dog "Hero" to retrieve articles dropped or thrown on the ground by his master or Mrs. Fraser. The dog was proud of his accomplishment and Fraser was proud of the dog until yesterday when a daylight burglar fleeing from the house and pursued by "Hero" took advantage of the canine to drop a pocketbook containing $2.50 for the benefit of the dog, and escaped with a bank containing $100.

The dog on spying the pocketbook halted and carried the money back to Mrs. Fraser while the thief escaped.

Mr. Fraser had left for his place of employment at the United States Engineer storehouse and Mrs. Fraser was busy with her flower-beds at the rear of the house. "Hero" was amusing himself by rolling over and over and chasing his tail and was playing various games of dog solitaire.

Suddenly the rolling stopped. Nero dashed towards the house and began barking fiercely. Mrs. Fraser at the end of the yard looked up just in time to see a man run down the stairs, through the yard towards the street with Nero in close pursuit.

Mrs. Fraser took up the chase, calling for assistance meanwhile. Nero had stopped barking and was gaining on the thief by leaps and bounds. Then something slipped from the thief's hands and fell to the ground. Nero stopped, smelled it, picked it up with his teeth and promptly turned around, trotting back to Mrs. Fraser, who had given up the chase.

He dropped the article at her feet, and on investigation it turned out to be a leather pocketbook containing $2.50. Meanwhile the thief had made

WILL REDEEM OLD BONDS OF PIONEER MILL

Stockholders of Pioneer Mill Company, Ltd., held a meeting this morning, when they ratified the proposition of the directors reported in the Star-Bulletin about ten days ago, to redeem about a million dollars of outstanding six per cent bonds and to make a new issue of half a million at five per cent.

All of the six per cent amounts in exact figures to $1,031,000 will be paid on October 1, and the company will on that date make a new issue of three per cent bonds at five per cent to the Bank of Hawaii, Ltd., at par.

The bonds will be secured by all of the property of the company, and be redeemable in three and payable in ten years, the Bank of Hawaii taking the entire issue.

good his escape, and when Mrs. Fraser made an inspection of the interior of the house, she found that a bank was missing which contained nearly $100. Captain Kellett and a squad of detectives were summoned to the scene, and a search of the neighborhood was begun immediately, but no trace of the thief could be found.

On motion of the United States District Attorney the cases against the ships Concord, Sailor Boy and Luk were dismissed by the federal court this morning, on agreement that defendants are to pay the costs. The charge was failure to display lights aboard the vessels while lying in Honolulu harbor.

The estate of the late John Thatcher, building superintendent in Brooklyn, who was killed recently by a fall, is believed to be worth nearly $1,000,000.

[Associated Press Cable]
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—Indications are that a Democratic filibuster is forming in the Senate to force consideration of the bill revising the woolen tariff, the sugar tariff bill and the excise bill. An attempt to force consideration of the wool bill by direct methods has been defeated by a vote of 35 to 28. Senator Simmons of North Carolina indicates that the Democrats will not allow an adjournment without considering the tariff measures now before the Senate.

KUHIO MEETING LEAVES SOME SORE SPOTS AMONG UNINVITED

Thirty supporters of Prince Kuhio, night, his friends as well as everybody else, wondered. Achi was said today to be indignant and it was admitted that several who were not asked last night were angry, whether or not they had intended to stay with the prince on his flight.

Charles Kanekoa, leader of the poolists, said today that the morning paper had him tared wrong. "I wasn't there," said Kanekoa, and James H. Boyd said the Advertiser had waked him from sound slumber at midnight last night and he had told the telephonic inquisitor at that time that he had not been at the meeting and didn't know anything about it.

Those who were there are reticent, but they say that it was a meeting devoted mostly to a discussion along the lines of Kuhio first, last and all the time, whether or not he should be nominated by the Republican convention.
